Falls From Trestle.

Isaiah Barnhill, a farmer who lived on the farm of Joseph Fister, on the Georgetown pike, near Lexington, fell from the Queen & Crescent railroad trestle in Irishtown, in Lexington, late Saturday night and died Sunday morning from his injuries. Barnhill was in Lexington Saturday with his nephew, E. L. Barnhill, with whom he resided, but remained when his nephew returned home. Soon after midnight a man was found lying badly injured under the trestle and taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. His left leg and several ribs had been broken and he had also received internal injuries. He was scarcely able to speak but said he had fallen from the trestle.

Testimonial to Worthy Minister.

To Rev. R. S. Litsinger, retiring pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Paris, Ky.

Dear Sir.—While with reluctance we yield to your request, to sever the relation between us as pastor and people, yet we acquiesce in your decision, for the reason assigned, to accept another field of ministerial labor to which the providence of God seems to direct you. We are pleased to be able to testify to your faithful and untiring labors while among us, both in the public ministrations of the church, and in your helpful intercourse with the people in general, who, hardly less than the constituency of St. Peter's, regret your departure.

Sincerely do we commend you to your new parishoners, as an affable Christian gentleman, an efficient pastor and an excellent preacher of the faith of our fathers, who, withal, is constantly on the watch for souls as one who must give account of himself to God.

Be assured, dear sir, of our prayers for you, that the Father of mercies and God of all grace may abundantly bless you and yours and make you a blessing to His church and to humanity.

Done in behalf of St. Peter's church by the vestry. (Signed)
